

Introducing Anna Log ...

Dedication. Education.

Dedication is a good thing – most of the time. In education however, as with everything else, there comes a time to try something new and better. This year Mike has found a new admirer in Anna Log, who listens to every word he says about old school morphology and the beauty of the microscope. Digi on the other hand prefers modern tools with a broader reach. Her students are eager to get to work using the cutting-edge technology in digital morphology that promotes efficiency, fruitful collaborations and ergonomic working environments.

Work Smarter – Teach Better.
