

CellaVision Environmental Policy

The operations of CellaVision span from product development to manufacturing and sales. The Environmental Management System encompasses all of the operations.

We base our environmental work on four ground principles:

1. CellaVision strives to make the employees aware of environmental issues and to stimulate concrete actions that support a sustainable future.
2. Cellavision strives to decrease the total environmental impact through a systematic environmental work during the development of processes and products. The Environmental Management System should be certified according to ISO14001.
3. Cellavision follows, and if possible, exceeds, environmental laws and regulations.
4. The environmental work of CellaVision shall continuously be improved and evaluated through internal audits.

The management of Cellavision is responsible for the environmental work.
